[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

PEKING (China) Thursday, Feb. 25.—Since the negotiations between Japan and China concerning the Japanese demands upon the republic have been going on in Peking, reference has been made to two sets of Japanese demands. One consists of twenty-one clauses and was presented to China as a basis of negotiations; the other consists of twelve clauses, and was given by the Japanese Minister in Peking to the Russian, French, British and American Ministers in the Chinese capital.

The text of the demands handed to the Chinese government follows:

GROUP ONE.

The Japanese government and the Chinese government, being desirous of maintaining the peace of Eastern Asia and of further strengthening the friendly relations existing between the two neighboring nations, agree to the following articles:

Article 1.—The Chinese government agrees that when the Japanese government hereafter approaches the German government for the transfer of all rights and privileges of whatsoever nature enjoyed by Germany in the province of Shantung, whether secured by treaty or in any other manner, China will give her full consent thereto.

Article 2.—The Chinese government agrees that within the province of Shantung and along the sea border no territory or island, or land of any name or nature shall be ceded or leased to any third power.

Article 3.—The Chinese government agrees that Japan's building a railway from Chifu or Lungkow to join the Kiao-Chow-Chinanfu Railway.

Article 4.—The Chinese government agrees that for the sake of trade and for the residence of foreigners, certain important places shall be speedily opened to the Japanese.

Article 5.—The Chinese government agrees to the Japanese subjects shall be free to reside in South Manchuria and Eastern Mongolia, such as to be jointly decided upon by the two governments by separate agreement.

Article 6.—The Chinese government agrees that Japan shall purchase from Japan a fixed ratio of the quantity of munitions of war (may above 50 per cent.) or Japan shall establish in China a jointly-worked arsenal. Japanese technical experts to be employed and Japanese material to be purchased.

Article 7.—China agrees to Japan's right to build a railway connecting Wu-Chang with the Kwantung and Nan-Chang. Also a line between Wu-Chang and Hang-Chow and a line between Nan-Chang and Chao-Chow.

Article 8.—China agrees that in the province of Fukien, Japan shall have the right to work mines and build railways (including dock yards) and in case of employing foreign capital Japan shall be first consulted.

Article 9.—China agrees that Japanese subjects shall have the right to propagate Buddhism in China.

NOTE TO OTHER POWERS.

The text of the demands handed to the foreign ministers follows:

GROUP ONE.

In relation to the province of Shantung:

Article 1.—Engagement on the part of China to consent to all matters that may be agreed upon between Japan and Germany with regard to the division of all rights, interests, concessions which, in virtue of treaties, or otherwise, Germany possesses in relation to the province of Shantung.

Article 2.—Engagement not to alienate or lease upon any pretext the province of Shantung or any portion thereof or any island lying near the coast of the said province.

Article 3.—Grant to Japan the right of construction of a railway connecting Chifu or Lungkow and the Chinanfu-Kiao-Chow Railway.

Article 4.—Addition of open ports in the province of Shantung.

GROUP THREE.

The Japanese government and the Chinese government, desiring that the Japanese financiers and the Hanseatic Company have a more direct and closer interest than at present, and also desiring that the interests of the two nations shall be further advanced, agree to the following articles:

Article 1.—The two contracting powers mutually agree that the terms of lease of Port Arthur and the term of lease of the Kiao-Chow-Chinanfu Railway shall be extended to the period of ninety-nine years.

Article 2.—Japanese subjects in erecting buildings for the purpose of trade, commerce, industry, or farming, shall have the right to lease or own land as required.

Article 3.—Japanese subjects shall be free to reside in South Manchuria and Eastern Mongolia and to engage in business and in manufacture of any kind whatsoever.

Article 4.—The Chinese government agrees to grant Japanese subjects the right to work mines in South Manchuria and Eastern Mongolia, such as to be jointly decided upon by the two governments by separate agreement.

Article 5.—The Chinese government agrees that Japan shall purchase from Japan a fixed ratio of the quantity of munitions of war (may above 50 per cent.) or Japan shall establish in China a jointly-worked arsenal. Japanese technical experts to be employed and Japanese material to be purchased.

Article 6.—China agrees to Japan's right to build a railway connecting Wu-Chang with the Kwantung and Nan-Chang. Also a line between Wu-Chang and Hang-Chow and a line between Nan-Chang and Chao-Chow.

Article 7.—China agrees that in the province of Fukien, Japan shall have the right to work mines and build railways (including dock yards) and in case of employing foreign capital Japan shall be first consulted.

Article 8.—China agrees that Japanese subjects shall have the right to propagate Buddhism in China.

political, financial or military matters.

Art. 5.—Transfer of the management and control of the Kiro-Changchun Railway to Japan.

GROUP THREE.

Agreement in principle that at an opportune moment in the future the Hanseatic company should be placed under Japanese and Chinese co-operation.

GROUP FOUR.

Engagement in accordance with the principle of maintenance of the territorial integrity of China, not to alienate or lease any ports and bays on, or any island near the coast of China.

BRYAN CONFERS WITH CHINDA.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Secretary Bryan had a conference today with Viscount Chinda, the Japanese Ambassador, regarding the negotiations in progress at Peking, and Chinese Minister Shih also was among the Secretary's callers.

No information concerning these visits was given out. It was learned, however, that American Minister Reisch at Peking is in almost daily communication with the State Department concerning the negotiations and that the Japanese Ambassador, Mr. Bryan has called for all information obtainable from Minister Reisch in order to see that rights of the United States under treaties with China are safeguarded.

GROUP FIVE.

The Japanese government and the Chinese government, with the object of effectively protecting the territorial integrity of China, agree to the following special articles:

Article 1.—The Chinese government agrees that no island, port or harbor along the coast shall be ceded or leased to any third power.

Article 2.—In the interior of China Japanese shall have the right of ownership of land for the building of Japanese hospitals, churches and schools.

Article 3.—Since the Japanese government and the Chinese government have had many cases of dispute between Japan and China, it is for this reason necessary that the police and judicial places (in China) shall be jointly administered (by Japanese and Chinese) and that the (Chinese) police and judicial places shall employ numerous Japanese for the purpose of organizing and improving the Chinese police service.

Article 4.—China shall purchase from Japan a fixed ratio of the quantity of munitions of war (may above 50 per cent.) or Japan shall establish in China a jointly-worked arsenal. Japanese technical experts to be employed and Japanese material to be purchased.

Article 5.—China agrees to Japan's right to build a railway connecting Wu-Chang with the Kwantung and Nan-Chang. Also a line between Wu-Chang and Hang-Chow and a line between Nan-Chang and Chao-Chow.

Article 6.—China agrees that in the province of Fukien, Japan shall have the right to work mines and build railways (including dock yards) and in case of employing foreign capital Japan shall be first consulted.

A GRAVE ISSUE WITH GERMANY.

Washington Awaits Report on Death of Thrasher.

Kaiser was Warned to Avoid Such Acts as Unfriendly.

Ambassador Page Conducting Inquiry into the Facts.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—While no official notification of the death of an American, Leon C. Thrasher, on the British liner Falaba, sunk by a German submarine, had reached the American government today, officials viewed the situation as fraught with grave possibilities.

Secretary Bryan said he expected Ambassador Page in London to submit a full report on the case if advice there confirmed reports of Thrasher's death, but added that no inquiries had been received by the department nor had any been made of Mr. Page.

It is known, however, that in view of the language of the American note of inquiry in reply to the German notification of a submarine blockade of England, the facts in this case will be awaited with the greatest interest. That note contained a plain warning that the loss of American lives through the German programme of sinking merchant vessels would be viewed as an unfriendly act.

It was suggested in some circles that the German position would be placed under the responsibility for the destruction of the Falaba upon her captain, contending that his effort to escape rendered his vessel liable to attack under the rules of international law. On the other hand, however, it was said that while the rules of international law heretofore applied permitted the destruction of merchant craft which resisted search by belligerent war vessels, it appeared that the German position would be placed under the rules of international law.

CITIZENSHIP UNCERTAIN.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, March 31.—Leon Chester Thrasher, who was among the 111 persons who lost their lives when the British steamer Falaba was torpedoed last Sunday by a German submarine, was an American citizen, although the officials of the Broomfield Mines Company, which had employed him, said he was a British subject.

French Say Swoboda Set Fire to La Touraine.

Is also Accused of Being Friendly to Germany.

Friends in New York Declare
He is Innocent.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

PARIS, March 31.—Raymond Swoboda, one of the passengers aboard the French line steamship La Touraine, which was imperiled by a fire at sea on March 6, has been arrested, charged with setting fire to the vessel, according to the Matin.

Swoboda, who is said to be of Swedish extraction, but born at Fresno, Cal., lived in Paris for a number of years, where he has been engaged in the banking and brokerage business, with a Frenchman as a partner. Several of his friends, who were seen today, declared that Swoboda at different times in discussing Franco-German political relations expressed opinions indicating pro-German sympathy.

It is said also that Swoboda recently attempted to make an arrangement with Alfred Capus, one of the directors of the Pigier, whereby he should visit Germany as a representative of that paper and write a series of articles which, owing to his American citizenship, could do without embarrassment.

Efforts were made today to interview Swoboda's partner, M. Raquet, but he could not be found at his place of business.

SUSPECTED AS SPY.

Swoboda, the Matin asserts, is suspected of having "close relations with the enemy," and correspondence found in his rooms is said to indicate he had been charged with the task of blowing up the Touraine. He has been taken to the Hotel de Ville, where he is being held by the police.

SECOND YEAR USUALLY BAD ONE FOR PHENOMS.

Cole, Adams, Russell and Others Suffered Relapse After a Sensational Debut—Will History Repeat in the Case of Bill James—Burns Signs and Scoggins Due to Report—Southpaws Galore.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

FRANK DILLON believes that the Braves will have a severe time repeating, even with the added strength given them by Sherwood Boone.

He has a hunch that Bill James, who won games so numerous last year, will not have a good season. Should Bill fail to repeat, it will be a severe blow.

It does not mean by this that Bill is a good pitcher, but it has been the history of the game that a young pitcher's first "big year" in the majors is most generally followed by a year of repeating himself.

Later, the young man, if he is large and robust, may recover from the novelty of his first "big year" and lead a useful life on the mound.

King Cole, Alexander, Chalmers, Russell, Russell, Babe Adams, Easton and Boehling are shining examples of the young pitchers, who got away to a fine large start in the majors last year, only to sort of peter out the following season.

Some of them came back later, but only to find that they were no longer the same. Cole also did, to a certain extent, while Russell is trying to do it on a diet of pickles—forty-four different varieties—will turn the trick.

ARGONNE FOREST BATTLE SCENE.

INTO THE JAWS OF DEATH—VIVID PICTURE OF WAR, HERE.

All this week hundreds have been daily flocking to see the famous war painting, "Into the Jaws of Death," exhibited in a specially-constructed art gallery on the seventh floor of the Los Angeles Furniture Company, No. 430-434 South Spring street.

The painting is based on the battle of the Argonne Forest in the western theater of war and is valued at $50,000.

In size 5x11 feet, the picture is said to be one of the modern masterpieces. It is promised to be to modern art what some of the greatest pictures of the Napoleonic wars are to the historical events of that period. Based upon sketches of the actual scene, the artist has depicted the people of Los Angeles and vicinity in a rare way.

The critics of the East, who have been privileged to view the masterpiece, are unanimous in agreeing that it is Warren's finest piece of work. It is also said to be the most realistic and adequate effort to picture the scene of war's horrors in Europe. Blended with exquisite coloring is the finest type of drawing.

The central motif of the picture is the engagement in which an entire English regiment, save for its drummer and fifer, is extinguished. The musicians are shown leading the regiment, or rather what is left of it, into the jaws of death. And yet these men stick manfully to their task. It is a great lesson of the heroism of war.

The opportunity to show this picture has just been secured by the Los Angeles Furniture Company, and the treat is free to all.

CAUSE OF GRAVE INJURY MYSTERY.

DID WATCHMAN FALL OR WAS HE BEATEN ON HEAD BY ASSAILANT?

Unconscious and bleeding from numerous wounds about the head, J. S. Thornton, 61 years old, a watchman employed by the Weaver Construction Company, was found in the basement of the annex to the new Broadway department store about 10 o'clock last night. He was removed to the Receiving Hospital, where it was stated he had very little chance to recover.

Whether Mr. Thornton is the victim of an accident or was struck down by an unknown person is not known, as he was unable to tell a coherent story of what happened. He was found by one of the watchmen of the store.

The most serious injury is concussion of the brain, a deep laceration of the chin and a broken jawbone. Several abrasions were found about the body.

Mr. Thornton lives at No. 115 East Fifth street. He is a widower, having been in Los Angeles only a short time.

SEEKS RELATIVES HERE.

But Fails to Find Brothers and Sisters of Survivor who Died in Philippines.

William J. Hart, whose brothers or sister may reside in Los Angeles, and who was for a number of years a mate in the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, died March 2, in Manila, according to P. W. Westdahl, inspector of the service, whose headquarters are in San Francisco, and who has fallen in with these near relatives of the dead man.

Mr. Hart was a native of St. Helena, Napa county, this state, and was 25 years old. He entered the government service in 1902, and during the past few years his principal work was in the Visayan group of the Philippines. A member of the Manila Lodge of Elks, he was well known in that city. His mother resides at the present time in New Zealand, but the whereabouts of his other relatives is a mystery.

REQUEST TO ABANDON.

An application to abandon three miles of unused or occasionally used lines of the Pacific Electric Railway, filed with the State Railroad Commission yesterday by the Pacific Electric, the lines that the company wishes to abandon are: Beacon street from Fifth to Thirtieth street; Thirtieth street from Beacon to Palms Verde street; Palms Verde street from Thirtieth street to Crescent avenue; Crescent avenue from Beacon to Center street; Front and Fourth streets from Fifth to Palms Verde street, and the narrow gauge on Fifth and Front streets, from Beacon to Fourth street; also that portion of the line on Fourteenth street and San Pedro street, running from Beacon and Fourteenth streets to the end of the line on San Pedro street; also the line on Fourteenth street from Pacific avenue to Gaffey street.

Indorsement Confirmed. A meeting of the Rose Hill Improvement Association was held in the Rose Hill high schoolhouse last night in behalf of the candidacy of T. M. Conklin for the Council. A resolution endorsing Mr. Conklin was adopted.

L.A.A.C. WRESTLERS TO GO NORTH.

LOCAL ATHLETES TO COMPETE IN FAR WEST, NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP BOYS.

Los Angeles Athletic Club wrestlers were named yesterday afternoon by George Towle to represent the south in the Far West wrestling championship tournament in San Francisco on April 12 and 13, and also in the national wrestling tourney in the same city on April 15 and 16. Although the two dates are close together little hardship is expected for the boys, and the strength of the team that will go north, it is believed, will put the L.A.A.C. on the wrestling map.

Eddie West is slated to represent the club in the 115-pound class. The featherweight put all comers under the mat at the Athletic Club with a consistency that won him a place in the limelight in the southern championships last year, and he has held on to his honors in every argument since. The club is backing him for a winner in San Francisco. Johnny Humerich qualifies in the 135-pound division. He will have a hard row to hoe against some of the San Francisco boys, but has a way of coming through. In the 155-pound class, Otto Linnes is the official representative; Billy Hubers weighs in at 145 and will go north with the team, and Ernest Daggett is named to wrestle in the 155-pound class. Either R. C. Webber or R. D. Elliott is to be the club's choice for the heavyweight class, 175 pounds. The man who shows up best by the close of next week is promised the place. Both Webber and Elliott have been putting in days in the gymnasium. Humerich, Linnes and Daggett have been working into the long hours of the night to get in form. The boys are out for blood.

A team of boxers will also be sent north by the club for the Far West boxing championship bouts on April 14 and 15. The representatives have not been named yet, though it is likely that Humerich and Al Maier will be among the first to be picked.

The recently revised Amateur Athletic Union rules to conform with the International Federation code, will go into effect on April 1.

The King of the Belgians

De Kalb County Picnic.

Former residents of De Kalb county, Illinois, will hold their second annual picnic and basket picnic in Eastlake Park on Saturday, beginning at 10 a. m. There will be an informal program and the election of officers.

Again Critically Ill.

Stanley S. Anderson, manager of the Beverly Hills Hotel, who underwent an operation recently at the California Hospital for appendicitis, is again critically ill. Owing to complications which arose yesterday his family was immediately summoned, and the present time his condition is somewhat improved.

Get Their Rewards.

The Pacific Electric Railway Company Tuesday paid $500 to Albin Dethman, No. 423 Olive street, San Pedro, and J. A. Parr, a conductor, for the capture on November 1, of Albert Cruz, while he was attempting to hold up passengers on a San Pedro street car. Cruz was convicted of the crime and sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary.

For Public Accountant.

An examination for candidates who desire to become certified public accountants, will be held in the City Hall on May 27, 28 and 29, according to Reynolds E. Blight, member of the State Board of Accountancy. Applicants will be examined in the theory of accounts, practical accounting and commercial law. Candidates for the examination must file their applications with the State board at once.

Surprise the Chief.

In honor of his forty-second birthday anniversary a surprise party was given Tuesday night at his home, No. 2382 Cambridge street. More than 100 friends, many of them neighbors, were present. Mayor Ross and Justice Summerfield made short speeches congratulating the Chief and wishing him many happy returns of the day. The Chief made a touching response.

About Turkey and Turke.

This evening at 8 o'clock Dr. Edgar J. Banks, explorer, author and lecturer, will deliver a stereoscopic lecture on "Turkey and the Turks" at the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association. A residence of several years in Turkey, connected with the diplomatic service and Robert College, has familiarized Dr. Banks with every part of the Turkish Empire. Recently he traveled 2000 miles in the remote interior.

Edward Muller, Come Home.

Mrs. S. M. Muller, who resides at No. 1741 New England avenue, Telephone West 4822, has requested the Times to assist in locating her thirteen-year-old son, Edward, who ran away Monday evening and has not been seen since. Edward is small for his age, weighs about eighty-five pounds, has brown hair and eyes, dark complexion, small scar on temple, dressed in brown coat and knee pants, cap and high shoes. Had a small sum of money.

For Easter Greetings.

The Western Union Telegraph Company has prepared a large number of special telegraph blanks to be used on Easter Sunday by those desiring to send Easter greetings to their friends by wire. These blanks are decorated with a band of Easter lilies, while across the top "Easter Greetings" is printed in large, legible script. They may be filed any time for delivery Easter morning. Telegrams filed Sunday will be forwarded immediately.

On Law and Grace.

Rev. Joseph Smale, formerly pastor of the First New Testament Church of this city, lately of England, is in Los Angeles and will speak in the Hadden Union Bible Classes in the Y.M.C.A. Building, room 501, tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Smale will speak by request, upon the subject, "Law and Grace." Miss Madeline Bryant of the Royal Academy of Music, London, a violinist, will render several instrumental solos. The lectures are free and open to men and women.

Million Club's Birthday.

The Women's Million Club celebrated its third anniversary with birthday party for members only at its headquarters in the Coulter Building yesterday. A social program was arranged and refreshments served at its close. Mrs. C. S. Foltz, president of the club, gave a short talk. Mrs. A. Davis read a birthday poem composed for the occasion. Mrs. J. F. Durbin caricatured some of the political candidates, and the program closed with several musical numbers.

Undelivered Telegrams.

There are telegrams at the Western Union for Nash Barrill, Mrs. C. M. Beecher, A. J. Butler, W. O. Blanchard, W. Chamberlain, Rev. G. W. Davis, Mrs. Arthur Deane, Mrs. M. E. Estes, L. W. Gibbs, Mrs. Carrie Hagberg, Ed J. Roberts, Mrs. T. E. Thorne, Gilman M. Watson, Edna E. Wilding, At the Post for Fred W. Taylor, G. E. Cox, Elmer Case, J. F. Meisner, N. D. What Say You?

WANTED—SEVEN THOUSAND EGGS.

THEY ARE TO MAKE "KIDDIES" GLAD EASTER MORNING.

Mrs. Sunde Issues Appeal, and if it is not Answered Generously, Many Indigent Children will be Greatly Disappointed—"Hen Fruit" to be Colored and Distributed.

There will be great disappointment among the poor children of the city on Easter Sunday if the donations of Easter eggs to the Mrs. P. H. Sunde fund do not increase. More than 7000 eggs are needed to complete the number necessary to cover the field when the distribution begins. This deficit has to be made up within the next three days, to be beneficial to the soul-staring orphans, who look forward each year to this picturesque feature of Easter Day.

The citizens of Los Angeles answered the call nobly last year when 12,000 colored eggs were distributed from Mrs. Sunde's headquarters at No. 2303 East Fourth street. But this year something has been lacking. Perhaps the spirit is still the same; the action has lagged. Last night Mrs. Sunde said she had only 5000 eggs on hand. She must have at least 10,000 eggs to color and distribute, or the distribution will be almost a failure. It would be useless to try and spread the pitiful few she now has over the large districts where the poor live.

"We have made every possible effort," Mrs. Sunde said last night, "to reach every darker place in the city where the little children are hungering for color and for food. The fresher eggs we distribute for eating purposes. The others we boll and color. But we have not been able as yet to collect enough eggs to go around."

The work of distribution will begin about 8 o'clock Easter morning and will continue as long as there are eggs to give away. Persons having automobiles which they will volunteer for use should report at the health department in the City Hall at 8 o'clock or as soon thereafter as possible. Eggs to be donated should be delivered to Mrs. Sunde at No. 2303 East Fourth street. Where it is inconvenient for persons having eggs to deliver them, efforts will be made to call for them if Mrs. Sunde is notified by telephone. Home 41193 or Sunset, Boyle 1554.

This distribution was originated by Mrs. Sunde some years ago. It was seized upon with avidity by others, who hurried to the assistance of the originator. The work grew to such magnitude that it had to be organized into departments. The nurses of the city, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret F. Birch, offered to distribute the eggs this year in a number of homes where they knew the Easter offerings would be received with the greatest appreciation.

A dozen eggs, more or less, means little to the average middle-class family. But to the poor, poverty-stricken child, whose life is bound up by four tattered walls and a mud hole for a back yard, it is a breath of heaven itself. And to them it brings a real Easter Sunday. Every one should help this endeavor.

BLOW SAFE OPEN.

Then Fall on Larger Vault and Use Cloth to Wipe Away Telltale Finger Prints.

Burglars who entered the office of Regan's Oil Well Tool works at Sherman Junction, early yesterday morning opened a small safe with nitroglycerin and made an unsuccessful attack on a large vault in the place. While there were indications that the crackmen had been frightened away, the police discovered they took time to wipe off any telltale finger marks on the safe doors with a cloth which they left behind them. The burglars got only a few dollars in small change and a few postage stamps, according to the report of the superintendent of the company.

XXXIVTH YEAR.

No Special Assessment.

FLOOD WORK BY BLANKET BONDS.

Hans Bill Knocked Out and Baker's Substituted.

Hot All-day Fight Ends in Lowland Victory.

Forty-year Issue Backed by Whole County Planned.

Special assessments for flood control were relegated to the discard yesterday when the Los Angeles County Flood Control Association voted to support the Haas measure from the state and sanctioned the submission of a substitute to the Legislature, with a recommendation that it be passed.

With Whittier, Long Beach, the San Fernando Valley and the Compton-Corona district holding the convention in the hall of their hands, the vote of superior voting strength, there was never any doubt as to the result of the battle, though the "hill" made a staunch fight against the blanket-bond proposition.

Nevertheless, it took four hours, crammed with verbal tilts and innuendoes to get the substitute measure to a vote, and even afterwards the dove of peace remained coyly aloof from the assembly of the fervidly interested in Patriotic Hall, Hall of Records.

Incidentally, President Whiffen of the City Council performed one more of his justly-famed flip-flops right out in the open. Arising with two other representatives of the city, to vote as on the substitution measure, he said yes, and then switched, to a chorus of laughter.

The substitute measure was drafted by Frederick Baker of Glendale, and was championed by A. W. Fry of Clearwater, who has all along been a strong fighter for the blanket bond proposition.

THE PROVISIONS.

Among the more important provisions of the Baker measure, summarized, are:

District to include all of Los Angeles county, south of a line drawn along the north line of township No. 4, north, 12, about Palmdale, with a few exceptions of Santa Catalina and the Channel Islands.

Issuance of forty-year bonds to do work, the amount to be determined by the Board of Supervisors from recommendations and surveys of a competent engineer or engineers, and bonds to bear interest at not to exceed 6 per cent, and to be a lien against the real property within the district.

Majority of votes cast at bond election determines the question of the issuance of bonds, provided, however, that if the bonds do not carry, the Board of Supervisors may call another election within six months, or may levy a blanket tax to net about $700,000, according to the present assessment rolls, to carry forward the work.

Members of the Board of Supervisors made ex-officio officers of the district, with full power to handle all work, without creation of any new county officers, either by contract or day labor.

"I cannot support the measure with Antelope Valley left out," said Chairman Frisvold of the Board of Supervisors, both before and after the vote of approval had been cast.

Admittedly framed to side-step the NATION-WIDE MEMORIAL.

This City, Which Lost Most, Originates Plan to Honor F-4 Dead.

A nation-wide memorial service for the sailors who lost their lives in the sinking of the submarine F-4 in the entrance of Honolulu harbor is to be fathered by the Chamber of Commerce, pursuant to resolutions adopted yesterday by the board of directors of the organization.

President Bulla of the organization was empowered to get in touch with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and commercial organizations the country over with the object of securing unanimity in the homage to those who gave their lives to their country.

The movement is regarded as appropriately originating in Los Angeles, in that this city claims more of the submarine's dead than any two other cities in the country. Four of the crew either lived here or had immediate relatives residing here.

Mrs. Ross and Mr. Wilbraham were surprised at the Alexandria, according to the evidence. It also appeared from the hotel registers that "G. W. Wilbraham and wife" were frequent guests. Manager Ross of the Alexandria testified that when the couple were trapped he ordered them out of the hotel, and said he would prosecute them if they returned. There was evidence also of Mr. Wilbraham as the guest of Mrs. Ross at the Belkirk, Santa Monica, and of her being his guest at the Aragon, San Francisco.

PLAYED BY COURT.

Her actions since the occurrence at the Alexandria, said the court, "have been such as to entitle her to very little consideration. It seems to me that even if she had not cared for reputation, policy should have dictated that she keep straight until this divorce case had been tried."

Mr. Wilbraham, he said, "had not the decency to come forward and say a word in her behalf or word of her protection, and his very absence is one of the potent pieces of evidence in the case."

Notwithstanding what occurred, the court commented that Mrs. Ross associated with Mr. Wilbraham, received and wore a ring he gave her, and lived with him, instead of going to live with her mother, as she is doing now. This was one of the facts which did not incline the court to be lenient.

"She is guilty of the most brazen conduct afterward," continued the court. "She received (Mr. Wilbraham) in her room at the Belkirk. He took his meals there at night. He went to San Francisco and engaged quarters there for her and she visited him."

In view of the charge, the court said he would give Mrs. Ross one-third of the property at its market value, if he had the power, he said he would make it $10,000, to be paid within three months. Judge Benedict Haas thought the court had the power to name a lump sum, and he will file his authorities to that effect. Mrs. Ross, through Attorney Morrison, declined a one-third share. She said her husband is worth $125,000. He says his holdings are worth $125,000.

The court undertook to divide the personal property, but finally decided to permit the interested parties to make the division. Mrs. Ross entered into this division with considerable spirit.

FERVID LETTER.

A letter written to Mrs. Ross four days before the Alexandria episode and found in the room, indicates that he is there with the pen.

NEW HAND AT SOUTHERN PACIFIC'S HELM HERE.

A NEW era in the traffic department of the Southern Pacific will start today when James H. Henshaw, Jr., who for the past ten years has been general passenger agent of the northern division, will assume the same position in the southern district. He will succeed Frank E. Batture, who goes north to take the place left by Mr. Henshaw.

Mr. Henshaw is a railroad man of the old school. He was in the service of the Southern Pacific when it was a one-man show, and has been in one of the first transportation men to open up the great Imperial Valley.

The new G.P.A. will make his headquarters here in Los Angeles. Since Monday last Mr. Henshaw has been in this city putting himself in touch with local conditions.

"I found that everything here was very satisfactory," Mr. Henshaw said last night. "I have known the boys in this office a long time. I am thoroughly satisfied with the personnel I have under me."

"We are realizing more and more every day the importance of Los Angeles as a traffic and business center. Do you realize that two months in every year Los Angeles is the financial center of the United States? By that I mean the capital represented by men living here during these two months aggregates a sum which makes Los Angeles the money center."

"It will be my sole aim, during my direction in this district, to give the very best service I can. That is the motto of our road. And I will see to it that it is lived up to."

Mr. Henshaw was general passenger agent in San Francisco at the time of the fire. During that period of chaos the Southern Pacific carried 44,000 persons out of San Francisco to all points in the United States within a week's time. And each person was carried free of charge.

Mr. Henshaw likes Los Angeles, both its climate and its people. He said last night he is only too glad to be able to make his home here.

OSTEOPATHS SEEK FAIR PLAY FROM THE STATE.

Questionable and Discriminatory Methods Charged to Board of Medical Examiners in Affidavits Presented to Governor by One of its Own Members—Benedict Bill Would Put All on Equal Footing.

SHALL the people, through the Legislature, prescribe the requirements for admission to the practice of medicine and surgery in California, or shall the fixing of these requirements be left to the Board of Medical Examiners?

On this is based the present controversy between the allopaths and the osteopaths; the former demanding the right of the State board to approve or disapprove applicants; the latter demanding fair treatment for graduates of any and all schools.

Behind the answer to this question hangs an economic proposition involving the destiny of the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, the second largest institution of its kind in the world. It is a definite asset to the commercial life of the State, inasmuch as it represents an investment of nearly $100,000; and because it attracts to California annually a large number of families, the heads of which take their training in osteopathy.

The Senate committee on Public Health and Sanitation has recommended the passage of the Benedict bill covering the point in question. The Benedict bill, which is identical with the Wright bill introduced in the Assembly, is diametrically opposed to the Benson bill on the question of empowering the State Board of Medical Examiners to fix the requirements of applicants for examination for a physician's and surgeon's certificate.

THE BENEDICT BILL.

In other words, the Benedict bill fixes these requirements. The Benson bill leaves it to the board, as at present.

Senator Benedict's bill, which is acceptable to the osteopaths in California and elsewhere, is considered a step in the direction of medical freedom.

NEW TRIAL OF KEATING CASE.

Supreme Court Grants Rehearing of Famous Divorce Action, Charging Error.

Edward Keating, youngest son and heir to the millions of the late Andrew Keating, the "Nitrate King," won a partial victory yesterday by a decision of the State Supreme Court in the divorce case decided against him by Superior Judge Church in this city, in August, 1911, wherein Mrs. Hazel M. Keating was granted a decree and alimony in the sum of $55,000. The Supreme Court finds the lower court committed error in not calling in another judge to determine a motion for a new trial and annuls the order denying a new trial with directions that another judge pass upon the motion.

Keating fought the decree on the grounds that the alimony was excessive, and also that Judge Church was prejudiced by his wife, a friend of Mrs. Keating. The upper court finds that the affidavit alleging prejudice of the trial judge filed by Keating stands uncontradicted. Being therefore legally unqualified, the lower court's order denying a new trial is void.

Vice-President Enthusiastic Over Los Angeles.

Calls Ours the Refinement of Hospitality.

Busy Visit Closes with Big Reception Tonight.

The hospitality of Los Angeles and Los Angeles itself were highly complimented by Vice-President Marshall yesterday evening after he and Mrs. Marshall had spent the day as guests of the city. The genial executive returned to the Alexandria late in the afternoon for a short nap before he dressed for a formal dinner party in the evening.

"Entertaining is a fine art in Los Angeles," the Vice-President declared. "Southern California hospitality is the most wonderful in the world. It is polished, spontaneous, and, best of all, genuine."

The Vice-President and his wife were the guests of honor last evening at a dinner party given at the beautiful Berkeley Square home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert P. McReynolds, the former a brother of Justice McReynolds of the United States Supreme Court.

The table was effectively decorated with a great bed of old-fashioned flowers, running the length of the board. This bed was made up of iris, cornflowers, forget-me-nots, freesias and the like. Elsewhere tulips, jonquils, narcissus and ferns were used. Tiny electric lights veiled in pink and candles in silver sticks supplied the illumination.

Present, in addition to the guests of honor were Judge and Mrs. Benjamin F. Ebleston, Judge and Mrs. Oscar Trippe, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Woolwine, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lyman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson, Mrs. B. A. Coulter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Phillips and William K. Crawford.

DAY'S ITINERARY.

The Vice-President's party arrived early yesterday morning from San Diego. Besides the Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall, the party included Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Winston, friends of the latter.

The visitors were met at the Santa Fe station by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce and escorted to the Alexandria for breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt left Los Angeles at 10 o'clock for the East, via the Grand Canyon.

The Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall were taken for a motor car ride,

TAKES ISSUE WITH BRYAN.

Census Agent Refuses Job to "Most Deserving" of Our Local Democrats.

A severe jolt dealt by Special Federal Census Agent Charles S. Sloane to the basic theory of Bourbon patronage came to light yesterday with the completion of the corps of assistant census takers who will work under Mr. Sloane.

When the latter came here to enumerate our manufacturers he was supplied with a list of the most deserving of our local Democrats from which it was tacitly understood he should select his help. Mr. Sloane gave the aggregation the justly-celebrated once-over and the no less famous up-and-down, and rejected the entire bunch. "They had no idea of the responsibilities of the position," said he.

Great indignation among the prominent Democrats who were under obligations to these rejected workers, and who had supplied their names. They sent Mr. Sloane another list and then another. Mr. Sloane looked the hopeful ones over with a coldly critical eye and put more than twenty through difficult and complicated paces before selecting his small force.

The latter now figure they might as well have gone through civic service in the beginning.

KNOCK A BOOST TO ANNEXATION.

San Fernando Valley Cause Helped by Enemies.

Scheme to Revive High-line Water Plan a Fiasco.

Clubs and Council Meet and Hear Salient Facts.

Marshall by "High Line" Graham, the Outlook Association and representatives of other women's clubs of the city met with the City Council, sitting as a committee of the whole, yesterday afternoon, discussed San Fernando Valley annexation and, as it developed, gave Mr. Graham a chance to try to bring to life the defunct "high-line" scheme, that was emphatically turned down by the people's votes some time ago.

The Outlook Association presented a report on its investigations of the proposed San Fernando Valley annexation that was decidedly in opposition to the proposition. It stands for the "wide" distribution of the aqueduct waters—which appears to be a new term coined to cover the discredited Graham "high-line" scheme to carry the aqueduct waters out as far as Glendale or San Dimas, with conduits paid for by the city, the ranchmen then simply to provide their own distributing systems.

The women heard some very wholesome truths in regard to the situation, backed by strong business axioms. Some of the club representatives were not in sympathy with the Outlook Association report, and came to acquire direct information to report to their clubs. They had the opportunity, for there was strong meat in the statements made by Councilman Wheeler, Chief Engineer Mulholland, George Dunlop and J. B. Lapinacott.

Councilman Wheeler made a general statement of the situation, showing that the city is paying more than $4000 a day interest for the aqueduct bonds, and that good business judgment requires these be made revenue-producing utilities as speedily as possible. He stated that originally he was opposed to the San Fernando Valley annexation proposition, but that upon further investigation he had become an enthusiastic convert to it, and proposed to do all within his power to carry it through.

He spoke of the rich soil of this valley and its great possibilities for development, provided it secures the necessary water; showed that annexation will provide this water, will at once create a demand for the employment of many men in construction of the conduits and the distributing system, and that many mechanics and artisans will be in demand to do the work of development, consequent thereon on private property.

The great increase in the productive power of the valley, its taxable wealth, and its population, were pointed out, and the advantages of the situation to the city itself.

"The people of this valley," said Mr. Wheeler, "have voted $2,500,000 bonds for the construction of their distributing system, every cent of which they will pay for themselves; they have agreed to pay their proportion of the cost of the Franklin Canyon work, and have undertaken to assume their share of the aqueduct, power and harbor bonds, as well as pay for the aqueduct water they will use. It in no manner debars the city from extension of the area to be supplied with aqueduct water, if this should prove desirable. Good business judgment dictates that the city take advantage of this opportunity."

George Dunlop showed the difference between the present situation and that proposed by the "high-line" scheme, wherein the recipients of the city's aqueduct water would have paid no portion of the aqueduct, power or harbor bonds, nor have been subject to municipal taxation.

As to arguments that San Fernando Valley would be a controlling factor, were it annexed, in preventing the placing of aqueduct water on other lands, Mr. Dunlop pointed out that the aqueduct must carry its own burden after it has had a reasonable time within which to find a market for its waters and that even should such a contingency occur, as predicted by the opposition, San Fernando Valley in such case would have to pay an increased water rate sufficient to carry these costs.

ARGUMENT FURNISHED.
R. C. Graham then repeated his old line of arguments to bolster up his pet "high line" scheme. He was well supplied with questions from Mr. Mulholland that revealed the real situation regarding the high line scheme. It was brought out that Mr. Graham and associates spent about ten months trying to get people along the proposed high-line conduit to sign up for use of the water, and that he had succeeded in getting only 6130 acres signed, even though it was proposed the city should build the main at its own expense. Mr. Mulholland showed that there are about 80,000 acres of tillable lands in the San Fernando Valley, and that the water is ready and anxious for the aqueduct water.

Mr. Mulholland stated that the aqueduct carries 20,000 inches of water, and that he has in his office demands from San Fernando Valley people for more than 6000 inches. He declared his certain conviction that within two years the valley would require and use at least 10,000 inches. His solution of the use of the remainder of the aqueduct water was to further increase the annexation of territory where the water could be judiciously applied.

He declared that when the aqueduct water is all in use, the rate of 1 cent per inch per hour will pay the entire cost of the aqueduct. In reply to a report that a vast amount of aqueduct water is wasted, he said that the water is now running into the mains and that the balance is stored in reservoirs. It was announced that today the aqueduct water will be turned into the mains of the McCarthy water system, a step towards supplying the various water companies operating within the city. Mr. Lapinacott spoke of the power situation and the necessity of acquiring the San Fernando Valley so there may be a sufficient flow of the water to keep the power plants operated to the best advantage.

The desperate efforts made by Mr. Graham and his associates to try to revive the high-line scheme by throwing discredit upon the San Fernando Valley annexation plan, received small comfort from yesterday's meeting, the pertinent facts presented were strong arguments for annexation.

heart spellbound and positively blind for anything except you, although I am, as you know, an impatient creature and particularly so for my treasure. But, like many other exceptions in our lives, I know that our happy connection cannot be brought about properly to our liking except by diplomatic and unending efforts. But, sweetheart, fate has brought us together, united our hearts in sincere love after all of these years, and fate will still remain good to us—it seems to say that our final and everlasting happiness will be forthcoming. This is signed "From your very own," but without a name.

Mrs. Ross in a cross-complaint charged her husband with cruelty. She said he constantly nagged her almost all of her married life. "He was jealous of every one I cared for, even my own mother, and my intimate friends. He was cold and distant," she said. She denied misconduct with Mr. Wilbraham, who was at the Alexandria, she said, with some other woman.

"If the man who wrote this letter to you was there with some other woman, it was not you," the court asked her. "No," replied Mrs. Ross. A letter torn into scraps and tossed away gave Mrs. Ross the first clue that there was another man, he says. He pasted the scraps together and when ardent love was read, he employed a detective, who listened surreptitiously, it is said, to numerous whispered words between the wife and the other man.

MRS. GIBSON'S FUNERAL.

Wife of Former Harbor Commissioner Laid to Rest Amid Beautiful Floral Offerings.

Many and beautiful were the floral offerings sent by friends of the late Mrs. Thomas E. Gibson for the funeral services at the family residence, No. 2273 Harvard boulevard, yesterday afternoon. The casket was virtually buried in blossoms and the room filled with handsome set pieces. Services were in charge of the Second Christian Science Church, of which Mrs. Gibson for years had been a devoted member, and actively engaged in work of its various departments practically to the time of her death, last Monday night.

Funeralbearers were Stoddard Jess, Eugene Fishburn, J. Ross Clark, W. C. Shelton, Harry Chandler and W. H. Burnham. Interment was made in the family vault of the former Los Angeles Harbor Commissioner at Hollywood cemetery.

William R. Gibson, son of the deceased and a student at Cornell University did not arrive in time for the services, but is expected to reach here tomorrow.

Short, United States Volunteers, pioneer fighting man, at No. 218 West Twenty-ninth place. The surviving one of the twins is Dr. T. C. Ills of Denver. Crossing the plains to Utah shortly after the close of the Civil War, in which he rose from private to second in command of the Thirty-first Illinois Volunteer Infantry, Col. Short engaged in the smelting business and was successful. He retired four years ago and moved to this city. The funeral services will be at the home of a daughter at 3 o'clock. Burial will be in Inglewood cemetery, under the direction of the G.A.R. Col. Short leaves a widow, Mrs. Ellen A. Short; five daughters—Mrs. F. M. Briggs of Co. 10, W. C. M. Cooper of Moab, Utah, Mrs. L. E. Norton of Fortness Monroe, Va., and Mrs. W. A. Wood and Mrs. Irene Short of this city—and two sons, Arthur E. and Charles A. Short, both of this city.

City's Charming Daughters will be the Models.

In Paris today there are no social functions but good works. The fashionable American women go about in demi-tailored "trottoirs" and are wearing their old garments. It is the style. No one could appear beautifully gowned, when the money might be used to relieve suffering, and some how these martyrs of war, upon whom so much of the sadness and poverty and all the heartbreaks fall, have not the heart to do other than as they do.

In Los Angeles plans are afoot to bring relief to these sufferers abroad by a brilliant pageant of fashion. The leaders of society and philanthropy are eagerly accepting invitations, so intent are they upon their plans.

And they have struck upon a novel one. They are going to work hard and get money to buy kits which are to be sent to soldiers in the trenches—articles, and cost $2. But these kits may mean life, and certainly will spell aid to the wounded in battle. The Los Angeles movement is but a small part of a universal effort—the Lafayette Kit, a tribute to the Revolutionary hero.

Only a fortnight ago the local committee set to work and yet in that short time they have outlined a great social and philanthropic event. Every day registers some new activity.

PROMINENT LEADERS.
In charge and directing their concerted efforts for the success of the venture are such leaders as Mrs. George J. Denis, Mrs. Allan C. Balch, Mrs. Ernest A. Bryant, Mrs. William Ellsworth Dunn, Mrs. John Barnes Miller, Mrs. Huntington Miner, Mrs. Granville MacGowan, Dr. Walter Jarvis Barlow, John Barnes Miller, Carlton Burke, Michael J. Connell, John S. Cravens, James C. Drake, Frank S. Hicks, Sayre Macneil and Henry E. Huntington.

A fashion show to be given in the Franco-Italian room at the Alexandria on the evenings of the 10th and 11th inst. and for one matinee will have in charge of the different sections Mrs. Michael J. Connell, Mrs. Dean Mason, Mrs. Sydney I. Wallies, Mrs. Frank Griffith, Mrs. William A. Brackenridge, Mrs. Howard E. Huntington, Mrs. Lawrence B. Burck, The filmist, Mrs. Howard E. Huntington, Mrs. Dean Mason, Mrs. Phila Miller, Dean Mason, E. Avery McCarthy and George Bonla.

Taking time by the forelock, the ladies are to completely cover midday's demands in the way of dress. In the full glory of the Easteride charming girls are to be incomparable manikins for sweet charity's sake.

Mrs. Dean Mason is to display a bride's trousseau, with all the wonderful things required and desired—morning, afternoon, street and full dress wear. A bevy of handsome girls and matrons are to assist. The personnel numbers Miss Frances Beveridge, Mary Hughes, Helen Jones, Fannie McClure, Louise Hunt, Albertine Pemberton, Helen Duque, Jane Richardson, Freda Maw, Louise Ballard and May Nicholson and Mrs. Alvin H. Frank and Mrs. Roy Silen. Tableaux and artistic groups are to be employed in effective display.

Mrs. Michael J. Connell will have the bridal party—what glories therein to unfold! Her list of the younger set is yet incomplete, though beauty and charm are to enhance her section. The matron of honor, maid, and even ushers, will realistically portray the most appropriate things for wedding attendants of Easteride. This, with the long list of happy couples to wed during the month, gives promise of rivaling in interest any feature of the fashion show.

THOSE WAISTCOATS.
Mrs. Frank Griffith and Mrs. Sydney I. Wallies have the outing section, with Misses J. C. Niven, Kent Parrott, Lloyd-Jones and Walter Leeds to carry off honors in the newest fashions. Golf, tennis, sweaters, corduroys and those adorable waistcoats will find queenly "champions" in such models. Miss Mildred Landreth is also to assist. E. Avery McCarthy will not be far away from the outing contingent; he is the bone and sinew of the Midwick contingent.

Mrs. William A. Brackenridge has the millinery. And such chapeaux are to be shown. In charge of the children's garments are Mrs. Howard E. Huntington and Mrs. Lawrence B. Burck. The filmist, Mrs. Howard E. Huntington, dresses for the little folk will be worn by the darlings themselves. Every conceivable frock and hat, wrap, etc., will be on parade.

The Fashion Show is a fertile topic of conversation wherever one goes these days. The patrons and patronesses are among the city's elite.

SHOW INCREASE.

The collections of internal revenue for March amounted to $192,475.75, as compared with $107,771.91, for the same month of 1914, and $82,696.85 for March, 1913. The big increase in Los Angeles receipts are largely due to the income tax and special war tax.

MAKING THE alternative of making the present 100,000 extra vote offer bring the greatest returns of their entire campaign, or else becoming outdistanced in the spirited race that will soon bring the pluckiest to the finish goal, their faces flushed with victory, the candidates in The Times Automobile Circulating Campaign are calling upon their utmost capabilities to accomplish everything possible are the special offer ends Saturday night.

MAKE MOST OF OPPORTUNITY

Contestants in "Times" Automobile Race Have but Little Time Whether They Will Win a Vote Offer Closes Saturday.

The observance of "Times Day" yesterday was an industry success affair, and hundreds of persons last helping hands to candidates of their choice. Many of them spent the entire day in the field in the interest of some particular young woman, and according to the earlier reports that came from the Campaign Office, substantial additions were made to the vote of a large number of contestants who are desirous of winning an automobile.

Now the one date that stands prominently in the foreground is April 3. That is when the biggest special offer of the campaign comes to a close. Today, tomorrow and the next day is all the time candidates have to gain liberal additions to their votes on every club of new subscriptions that is secured. Many candidates have expressed their belief that it is now or never. And they are right. Those candidates who produce the most during this special offer, are the most likely ones to be the winners at the end.

ONE WEEK MORE.
When it is taken into consideration that only one week after this one remains before the campaign closes, the imperative necessity of putting forth the best efforts now are apparent. Only up to next Saturday can the biggest killing in votes be made.

There is no one in the race who can rest assured that she will be a winner. The only method of playing safe is to gather every vote possible. Every contestant has friends who have promised to subscribe before the contest ends, and many will do their greatest work just before the whistle blows for the finish. Contestants should not let one opportunity go by without exhausting its value in the way of securing votes. The telephone, letters and, best of all, personal calls are the most acceptable methods of covering the territory thoroughly. To bring in these subscriptions before next Saturday, in club of five years or two and one-half years. Any new subscription over three months, which will bring for six months, one year, two years or more.

That's the special offer in a nutshell. By taking advantage of it candidates may build up a reserve of votes that will come in handy in keeping their names in the race later on.

ALWAYS ANOTHER.

One of the callers at the Campaign Office yesterday was a young woman who stated that she had "gotten" everybody in her district. Half an hour later another candidate called and produced TEN subscriptions from the same territory. All of which goes to show that no matter how certain one may be that nothing is left, some other candidate will come over the same territory with gratifying results. Real sincere effort is a prime requisite if results are to be obtained.

No one who tries will fail to be rewarded; but those who expect to win must prepare to follow a fast pace. With every dawn of day the race grows closer, and the interest becomes even more intense. Persons who have hitherto bestowed only passing interest in the campaign are being urged eagerly and becoming the most rabid partisans of some candidate or another. The contestants themselves are keyed up to the last notch, and those who are ambitious will not relax until the final hour has passed. The good old stick-it-out spirit is what will bring home a prize.

When the final votes are counted the first may be last, and the last first. No one can foretell the result. Some have many friends working for them, while no contestant is entirely without support. This kind of thing, friends are just as anxious as the contestants for the latter's success, and so candidates can afford to fall for the sake of the friends who have nobly supported her during the greater part of the campaign. Personal pride is a strong element in this race. "STICK-IT-OUTYENESS."

Fathers and mothers want to see their daughters win; brothers and sisters feel the same way about it. Not only that—but the communities are eager to claim the honor of producing one of their own daughters as the successful winner. The contestants are most successful. Then there is the sense of personal satisfaction that will come to candidates who have proved themselves entitled to the honors that will come. Many of these young women have never lost out in anything they undertook and do not intend to start now.

There are several matters that candidates must give their attention to.

Scores of Worthless Entries

on Yuma Project.

Tour of Government Officers

Shows True Conditions.

George W. Comerford and ten other attaches of the field division of the Land Office returned yesterday

from a three months' stay in the Im perial Valley, where they have been investigating the status of more than 100 homesteaders who, in direct dis obedience to the orders of the In terior Department, have made settle ments on the land withdrawn more than two years ago in aid of what was then known as the Yuma reclamation

project.

For about two years the Interior

Department had in mind the re covery of the land to homestead and start land entry, but on account of the fact that prior locations had been made by entrymen, and in many in stances expensive improvements made,

there was some doubt as to how just it would be done to those who had already the land and those who, be lieved by smooth locators, paid from it to it as every week or so, and had "taken a chance." The land is lo cated as far south as the Mexican boundary line, and runs up to Im perial Valley, and is estimated at not less than 100,000 acres.

Mr. Comerford and his assistants visited every man who has entered upon the forbidden land, took a statement of why he withdrew more than two years ago in aid of what was then known as the Yuma reclamation

project.

He found that in some instances the

MENTAL DEVIATION.

Plans of the Psychopathic As sociation of Los Angeles.

Mental deviation, and especially that phase of it called feeble-minded ness, has become such an insistent and growing problem that it now fairly shrieks for some solution.

Sensing this need as an imperative demand, the Psychopathic Association of Los Angeles has taken upon itself to shoulder the burden of a cam paign:

(a) To educate the public mind

upon the grave subject.

(b) To urge the necessary im mediate action upon the Legislature.

(c) To invite united action and co operation with other associations working along these lines, and

(d) To offer its services as a clear inghouse for obtaining, correlating and dispensing useful data upon the subject of mental deviation, and, es pecially, feeble-mindedness.

The expense of neglecting the prob lem of the mentally defective child and youth is so far in excess of the expense of making even a belated at tempt at solving it that the State is having its hand actually forced by the growing public opinion.

Up to now, this problem has been either neglected, state stepped or con sciously dismissed, with the label,

"nothing stirring."

It so happens that this can no longer be done, and for the very obvious and potent reasons that it is touch ing the money nerve of the State, and arousing the emotion of fear in the public mind. These two specters—ex pense and fear—are capable of excit ing a priority of action.

As to fear, it must haunt every one of us when we realize the malignant

they worked out a fairly accurate method of grading the mental age of a child. These men, very Bine and Simon, and their scale is called the Binet-Simon scale. By this scale it is possible to grade the child in terms of mental age. If a child's mental age is 3 or more years below

his age in years, it is called "feeble-minded." The child at 12 years of age may be 15 or 20, or 30, and its mental age below 12, or even below

two.

For purposes of convenience, the following arbitrary classification is ac cepted:

Below 2 years, idiot.

From 2 years to 7 years, imbecile.

From 7 years to 12 years, moron.

The idiot and the imbecile com prise a big percentage of the popu lation of any institution for the care of the feeble-minded. But the most important group is the moron group.

This is a word taken from the Greek, meaning a foolish person, and is adopted for our purposes to mean

the high-grade feeble-minded person.

There are many reasons why this is the most important group. In the first place, individuals of this group are the recruits which go to swell

the army of criminals, paupers, vagrants, prostitutes, white slaves and ne'er-do-wells. These are the ones who pass for normal individuals and are considered to be only "back ward," "incurable," "a little stupid" and the like. They are the most affectionate, very religious and susceptible. They marry early and bring into being numerous offspring.

They very often have a keen sense of their own kind and their children are bound to be defective.

They or their children will surely isologist is the further study by ex pert methods of individual cases and their reactions to the social environ ment."

This is the end in view which the Psychopathic Association has in pres enting the campaign just at this time to arouse public opinion to make pressure upon the Legislature to the end that it will favorably support and pass the bill that is before it at this time.

This bill was introduced into the Senate by Senator Cogswell and into the Assembly by Assemblyman How ard J. Fish. It is the desire and fer vent hope of the Psychopathic Asso ciation that every interested person

(and who is not?) use any influence in his or her power to reach one or more of the members of the Legisla ture in behalf of this bill.

The main provision of the bill is to turn the girls' department of the Whittier State School into a small in stitution where a beginning may be made in Southern California to ac commodate, care for and educate as many children as can be cared for in such a small place—only about 100.

At some future time, the State should have a sufficient fund to in stall and equip a really adequate and suitable institution, where the crying need may more fully be met.

It is a well-known fact that the mental deviate cannot do well in competition with his normal fellows.

The main work is cannot be in the capable of doing it. It is just as well known that he can do well in a citizenship composed of his own kind.

He is capable of education that is suited to him.

There is no cure for feeble-mind edness—but it can be prevented. It is

THE LAST SAD RITES.

Mother of Noted Theatrical

Producer Laid to Rest in the Family

Vault Here.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Dorca Montrose, mother of

Oliver Moroso and Joseph Montrose, were conducted Tuesday afternoon at Christ Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Montrose died suddenly several days ago in New York and the re mains were brought to Los Angeles for interment in the family vault here.

Rev. Baker P. Lee officiated at the services, both at the church and at mausoleum in Inglewood cemetery, where the remains were placed.

The pallbearers were lifelong friends of the Moroso family, and included James J. Sprecher, Dr. Ralph

Hagan, C. C. Goodwin, Harry S. Duf

field, James Harwell, William H. Er vast, James Neill and Capt. A. C.

Jones.

Scores of beautiful floral offerings attested the deep sympathy of the many friends of the family.

In addition to Oliver Moroso and Joseph Montrose of Los Angeles, Mrs.

Montrose leaves three children in New York—Leslie Moroso and Helene and Franklin Montrose.

Life's Gentler Side—Society, Music, Song and the Dance—The Theaters

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

SOCIETY en masse will attend the reception which is to be extended to Vice-President and Mrs. Thomas Marshall tonight by the Chamber of Commerce. The banquet room of the Alexandria will be used, and today are undergoing special decorations. The ladies who will assist in the case, but Mrs. Winchester said the engine of the automobile was running and muffled open. "I was walking along Wilton place when the man rushed up to me, snatched my purse and darted across the street," she said. "He leaped into the automobile and almost before I could make an outcry he was gone."

Officers from University Police station made a hurried investigation of the case, but Mrs. Winchester was unable to give a very clear description of the bandit and no trace of him could be found. She said she is positive the man had an accomplice in the automobile.

Tuesday night Mrs. Fannie Henderson, 64, East Thirtieth street, was walking alone between Maple avenue and Main street. She said she had just got $4 from her bank and was on her way home.

Mrs. Henderson described the robber as a man of medium build, about 35 years old. She said his companion who remained in the automobile, was about the same age. Both wore caps and were dressed in dark clothing. The robber struck her a heavy blow on the head with a brick, and she fell. He then took her purse, which contained $4.00 in money, and jumped into the machine. It disappeared before Mrs. Henderson could collect her senses.

PICTURES JAIL HIM.
Pilar A. Robledo, who conducts a newsstand at No. 422 San Fernando street, was yesterday brought over to the Federal grand jury by Commissioner Williams, in connection with the sale of obscene pictures. He is charged with the sale of pictures of a woman in a compromising position. In default of bond he was committed to the County Jail.

HAS A HUNCH ON ELECTION.

Draw First Lot Four Times During Campaign.

Pasadena City Commissioner Election on Today.

"White House Baby" Visits in the Crown City.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

PASADENA, April 1.—Because he drew No. 1 at four mass meetings where lots were drawn to see who would speak first during the city campaign, which closed last night, and because the election will be held on April 1, William F. Creller, a candidate for Commissioner, believes he will be first man when the votes are counted.

Three Commissioners are to be elected today. There are six candidates. The polls are to be opened at 10 a.m. and closed at 7 p.m. Three Commissioners are running for reelection, M. H. Salas, J. D. Allen and E. L. Metcalf. The other candidates are W. F. Creller, A. W. Hookway and C. S. Thompson.

There has been little interest in the campaign, and it is not expected that more than 1500 votes will be cast. At the recent primary for the nomination of Commissioners, the smallest vote ever cast in Pasadena was polled. In this interest has been shown that some of the Commissioners employed press agents to try to build the people with a little enthusiasm.

Each of the six candidates is sure of election today, and each one feels that the larger the number of votes polled the greater will be the number of votes for him.

"WHITE HOUSE BABY."

Miss Esther Cleveland of Princeton, N. J., daughter of the late President Cleveland, arrived in Pasadena shortly before 1 o'clock last night.

The former "White House baby" developed into a tall and charming girl. She is the daughter of a family interested in all kinds of sports. In fact, she is a regular outdoor girl. She is fond of tennis and especially does she enjoy swimming.

She is accompanied by her grandmother, Mrs. E. F. Perrine of Princeton, N. J., and her party will leave Monday for San Francisco. While most of their time will be passed in a motor car, they will visit the "Mission Play" at San Gabriel.

FUN FOR TOTS.

Fifty-six tots from the Masonic Home at San Gabriel had the time of their lives in Pasadena yesterday. Early in the day eight machines, including that of Postmaster Clark McLean, were loaned to the children and gave them a most wonderful joy-ride. They were taken to the golden poppy fields near the home where they filled their little arms full of the lovely blossoms.

After a home show the day's fun was topped off with a splendid dinner given them at the Masonic Home. The hall by the Southern Chapter of the Elks, which remembers the little children of the poor at the San Gabriel home some every year.

CITY BRIEFS.

A party of prominent Rochester, N. Y., people arrived in the private car "Ideal" yesterday and are registered at the Hotel Huntington. The party are Carl Lomb and W. B. Busch, of the firm of Lomb & Busch, the chief makers of lenses for opera glasses and kodaks in the United States; W. G. Stuber of the Great Northern Hotel in Chicago, and George F. Roth, this is the exception of the others have been to California and are delighted to be here. The men are all accompanied by their wives.

C. W. Gates has just concluded arrangements for the purchase of the Sprague mansion on Orange Grove avenue. The consideration is $175,000. Mr. Gates recently disposed of his Orange Grove avenue property to President Wilson of the Willamette Motor Car Company. Mr. Gates's new property is one of the most valuable in the city. It is a large and is one of the show places of Pasadena.

The Pasadena Board of Trade will give a luncheon tomorrow afternoon at the Maryland Hotel in honor of Mrs. S. Cobb and Charles Van Loan, well-known magazine writers. Frank Roberts has been invited to represent the Pasadena press.

Another large importation of old Chinese bronzes, enamels, embroideries, jades and lacers just opened at Grace Nicholson's Famous Pasadena Shop, 48 Los Robles.—[Advertisement.]

FALLS FROM CRUTCHES.

Agred Ontario Woman May Die from Accident in Trying to Sweep Porch of Her Home.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

LONG BEACH, March 31.—Last year Mr. and Mrs. H. Charles Prevett came from Alberta, Can., to pass the winter here. They were not here more than a few days when burglars forced a valuable piece of jewelry composed of three pieces of English gold. This was returned to Mrs. Prevett by local detectives.

The couple came here again last night and the selfsame piece of jewelry was stolen from them by a pass-key thief, and again it was returned by the local police department. The couple together both times. The Prevett live at the Alberta house.

HER TWENTIETH CHILD HER LAST.

CALEXICO, March 31.—Mother of twenty children, Mrs. Alvira Oliva of Calexico expects no more children, so she today decided that the boy born Sunday shall bear the father's name. Although eleven brothers preceded him in the family, the twentieth child shall bear the name of Juan Oliva, Jr.

But a few weeks ago a Browley mother bore her fifteenth child. She is but 35. Calico's twenty times mother is 48. Twelve sons and eight daughters have been born to the Oliva family. Two boys and three girls have died. Thirteen live here.

The father of the brood was born on a Spanish island in the Mediterranean fifty years ago. The mother is a native of Guaymas. They came here from Los Angeles in August.

CAPTIVE RELATES HARROWING TALE.

KEPT IN SECLUSION FOR FEAR ACCUSED MAN MAY DO HER MORE INJURY.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIVERSIDE, March 31.—Further developments in connection with the arrest of F. M. Meek, the Beaumont ranchman, charged with keeping Mrs. Rosie Whitlock a prisoner in his home through the use of chains and handcuffs, add new horror to the shocking details first secured through those instrumental in the release of the woman and the apprehension of Meek.

For fear that Meek may find a bondsman and seek out and kill the woman who charges that he made her the subject of atrocious indignities, the authorities are keeping her in seclusion until the time for the preliminary examination which will be held on Friday morning.

Falling after repeated attempts to make her escape from Meek with her little girl, Mrs. Whitlock actually succeeded in getting word of her plight to a Colton woman, the note which conveyed the information being written while she was chained to a bed post, according to the story related to the District Attorney. This letter, brought to the attention of the District Attorney's office, in all probability saved the woman's life as the officials declare she is a mental wreck.

Mrs. Whitlock will tell her story to the court on Friday morning. It contains all that has been told the District Attorney. It will relate the details of repeated attempts to escape through the darkness, clad only in a night robe, only to be overtaken by Meek and dragged back to her dreadful prison.

It will be a rehearsal of almost unbelievable cruelties, such as forcing her to live in Pasadena at the point of a revolver which was fired close to her head in order to frighten her into acquiescence. It will charge that she was a prisoner for a period of four months with Meek attempting to overawe her with the claim that he was a deputy United States marshal with a right to keep her prisoner.

The exhibits in the case will include the chain to which the woman was handcuffed, but her wrists scarred by the cruel iron will be mute evidence of the terrible ordeal through which she has passed.

SATISFIES TECHNICALITY.

Hermosa Beach Trustee Pass Ordinance for Issuing City Hall Bonds.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

HERMOSA BEACH, March 31.—To complete the transcript for an issue of $10,000 in bonds for the building of a City Hall, the Board of Trustees have just passed an ordinance which orders the issue of the bonds. The bonds had been sent to the State to be bid upon, and the technicality was discovered.

The ordinance therefore made last night and will be forwarded to the capital upon legal publication. This will mean that the work on the City Hall will be rushed. At the same time an order was made ordering an issue of $1000 for the purchase of fire apparatus.

S. C. Comer was awarded a contract to build a pergola for picnic parties. It will stand in a big open space on the municipal pier, and the work will be begun at once, say the Trustees.

Other bidders for the work were Granville & Son, Charles B. Hall, C. C. Fattisner and Paul E. Schelmer.

So far but two candidates have come forward for places on the school board of the Redondo Union High School district, the district embracing Redondo Beach, Manhattan Beach, Hermosa Beach and the Grant district. One of the candidates is G. E. Thatcher, cashier of a local bank, and formerly of Redondo Beach.

FALLS FROM CRUTCHES.

Agred Ontario Woman May Die from Accident in Trying to Sweep Porch of Her Home.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

ONTARIO, March 31.—Sustaining a deep cut in her forehead, several broken ribs and a dangerously bruised hip, in a fall down the steps at her home, No. 121 West State street, when her crutches slipped from under her as she was endeavoring to sweep off her porch late yesterday, Mrs. Thomas Walker, age 74, is confined to her bed.

Mrs. Walker never fully recovered from injuries received in a fall about a year ago when her right hip suffered a compound fracture and only recently has she been able to move about with the use of crutches.

It is feared that Mrs. Walker's injuries, coming at a time when she was in frail health, on account of the previous accident, may prove fatal. She is the mother of Harry Walker, Janice Walker and Mrs. H. E. Milling of this city.

Greetings await Vice-President Marshall at the Mission Play in San Gabriel this afternoon. Left to right are the Vice-President, Don Jasper de Portola and Father Junipero Serra.

VISIT TO SAN GABRIEL.

Vice-President and Party to See the Mission Play and Ancient Church Today.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

SAN GABRIEL, March 31.—When Vice-President Marshall visits here tomorrow afternoon the old pueblo of San Gabriel will receive its first official visit from a President or Vice-President of the United States.

The Mayor and Trustees will meet the Vice-President at the San Gabriel bridge, between Alhambra and this city. The distinguished guests will be taken to the old Mission Church where a short reception will be held.

John S. McGroarty, author of the Mission Play, will escort the Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall through the old Mission, pointing out to them the relics of historical interest. The Vice-President is especially interested in old California.

Afterwards the party will attend a performance of the Mission Play. A few rooms, both with and without private baths, can now be secured at "Hotel del Coronado." See Coronado Agency, 234 So. Spring street, or wire the hotel direct.—[Advertisement.]

HOLDS THE IRON CROSS.

Palm Springs Veteran Minned the Wall of Metz and Was Wounded. Decorated by the Kaiser.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

PALM SPRINGS, March 31.—The inhabitants of this village have been much surprised to find that the village carpenter, Paul Mathews, is none other than Sergeant Paul Mathews, veteran of the Franco-Prussian war and recipient of the famous Iron Cross of the first grade for distinguished services.

Mathews is a native of Posen in Prussian Poland and it was from there that he enlisted in 1870 at the age of 18. As he was a carpenter by trade, he was assigned to the Engineers or Engineers of the Fifth Army Corps.

Three months later he was with a part of his company at Sedan under the walls of Metz when they were discovered by the French and all but Mathews were killed by a single charge of shrapnel. With the top of his head badly torn and his face a pulp he lay unconscious until morning, when he was taken to the field hospital.

It was while there that he was visited by Wilhelm, King of Prussia, and later a dance floor will probably be begun at the same time. Other bidders for the work were Granville & Son, Charles B. Hall, C. C. Fattisner and Paul E. Schelmer.

So far but two candidates have come forward for places on the school board of the Redondo Union High School district, the district embracing Redondo Beach, Manhattan Beach, Hermosa Beach and the Grant district. KILLS LOVER AND HERSELF.

Young Divorcee of Parker Shoots Mere Boy.

Leaves Letter Telling of Her Failing Courage.

New Road Through Cajon Saves Crossing Streams.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 31.—Rather than live without the boy she loved, Genevieve H. Sweeney, aged 21, decided to die and take him with her, and the sordid story of the killing of 17-year-old Hubbard Fugate and subsequent suicide in a lonely little house on the banks of the Colorado River, just north of Parker, reached official circles here today.

Letters left by the dead woman stated that her love for the boy was greater than her courage to live without him. Luring young Fugate to the house overlooking the river, she shot him through the head as he lay asleep and, sitting on the edge of the bed, she turned the revolver on herself. She was the divorced wife of William Sweeney, who operates the ferry at Needles and leaves two little girls, the custody of which she assigned in letters to her mother, Mrs. Fred Hall of Parker.

One of the letters she left was addressed to her father and reads: "Dear Daddy: I must tell you good by in this way. My last thoughts will be of you and mother, brother and my two innocent darlings. I am tired of this life. I have not courage to battle with it as you have. I have tried for some time to get the courage to end it all. By-bye, Jesus, brother dear; don't hate your sister for doing this. I am so tired. I think it for the best. Be a good, brave boy. We shall meet again, in my firm belief. I will never forget you. My courage is failing. With everlasting love, GENEVIEVE."

GATE CITY BRIEFS.

All stream crossings have been eliminated by the new road through Cajon Pass, which was opened to traffic today. The road, which will be a unit of the new highway system in the county to be paved by the Highway Commission, is cut through rock in what is known as Blue Cut, reducing the distance of the old road as well as the grade. At no point between San Bernardino and Summit road is the grade more than 5 per cent. Supervisor George E. Butler, the originator of the work, directed the construction.

Overnight Relief For Constipation.

When the bowels become clogged with a mass of poisonous stomach waste, sick headache with all its attendant misery, belching of sour stomach gases, bloating and general discomfort are sure to follow.

A mild, pleasant laxative-herb with carry off the congested mass without upsetting the stomach or griping the bowels, is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A dose taken just before retiring will afford a grateful relief next morning, without unpleasantness, or discomfort.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the ideal family remedy, especially for the women and children, and old folks. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 453 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

PLANTING WALNUTS.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

WHITTIER, March 31.—Walnut planting for the season is now largely completed, and all Whittier nurserymen agree that this spring has been one of unusually large plantings. In the North Whittier district many nurserymen have been set out and local nurserymen report that their stocks for this year's plantings are practically cleaned up. The ruling price for trees has been 50 cents to a dollar, according to size, preferences usually running to the larger sizes. The standard varieties of Chase, Placenta, and St. Monica have continued to be favorites.

Citrus planting will begin in a few days, and the low prices at which good lemon, orange and grapefruit trees can be procured this spring has stimulated plantings beyond the earlier expectations. Many owners who refused to buy trees at $1.25 two years ago, and 75 cents last year are now arranging to set their acreage with 40 and 50-cent trees. April and May will see heavy plantings.

HAY AND GRAIN.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

VENTURA, March 31.—The hay and grain crops of the county have been saved and insurance given for a good crop of beans and best of the coming year. The hay and grain and fill feed were drying up rapidly when the rain came. The crust of the ground in the fields had baked so hard that plowing or cultivation was impossible and the farmers and growers were getting frightened at the outlook.

CONTROLS GRAY SCALE.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

PORTERVILLE, March 31.—C. F. Collins, Horticultural Commissioner of Tulare county, has issued a detailed report of work done last season against the incursions of the gray scale (coccus citricola) and reaches the conclusion that it can be definitely said that cranberry properly applied will completely control the pest.

Last year rumors were spread that the scale was deadly, was immune to all varieties of attack and that it meant a constant and costly fight if it were to be preserved from extinction.

Mr. Collins declares in his report that dosage has been definitely established, that the work can be carried on successfully at least nine months of the year and that a single fumigation with 90 per cent of the scale pests. It is declared consistent work for the coming year and for 1916 will mean the end of any danger in Tulare county from this cause.

This year, the report ends, the work will not be done by the county authorities direct, although the commissioner will still direct the fumigation and will designate those orchards which it will be necessary to treat.

RIVERSIDE GIRL TO SING ANTHEM.

MOUNT RUBIDOUX SERVICES TO HAVE SPECIAL FEATURE BY OPERA STAR.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RIVERSIDE, March 31.—Marcella Craft, the Riverside girl who won fame in opera in Munich, will have a part in the sunrise Easter service on Mount Rubidoux next Sunday, on the occasion of the annual pilgrimage to the summit of the rock eminence.

A feature of the services this year will be an anthem composed especially for the occasion by Carrie Jacobs Bond. This will be sung by Miss Craft. The people will take up the chorus under the baton of Carl Bronson of Los Angeles, who is training a chorus of 150 voices for the musical numbers. Miss Craft will sing "Hear Ye, Hear Ye," and "The Holy City."

The exercises will close with the ceremony of the peace flag, and a prayer for peace by Dr. Charles Edward Lock.

Plans have been completed for Riverside day at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, H. L. Carnahan, State Commissioner of Corporations, will deliver the address. B. C. Evans has been selected to act as chairman of the day. Superintendent C. D. Hamilton, representing the county as a member of the Southern Counties Exposition Commission, will receive at the hands of the officers of the commemorative brouillette to be presented on the occasion.

A few rooms, both with and without private bath, can now be secured at "Hotel del Coronado." See Coronado Agency, 234 So. Spring street, or wire the hotel direct.—[Advertisement.]

The extension of time is in the interest of the entrymen who have as yet developed no water supply, but are hoping against hope that something will turn up that will give them that very necessary adjunct to the development of any land.

"FINE SHOW."
A spectator sitting in Tally's Theater on the evening of April 3, 1914, whispered "to Harold W. Haun, a young musical student, who was sitting next to him:

Mr. Haun did not catch the remark and inclined his head to hear better. At that moment, a heavy electric wheel ventilator fell with a crash, striking Mr. Haun a glancing blow on the head, knocking him out. The blow was sufficient to send Mr. Haun to the hospital for six weeks. Had he received the full force of the fifty-pound machinery, he would have been killed.

Yesterday his suit against Thomas Tally for $25,000 damaged was considered by a jury.

...that the ventilator was installed upside down and that it was owing to this negligence that it fell.
Mr. Tally denied liability, and set up that if any one was liable it would be the concern which installed the ventilator.
